US Desires Multi-Nation Discussion of Space Arms

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States declared today it is ready to begin multi-nation talks immediately on steps to harness space missiles for peace.

The statement was made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge at the U.N.'s 82-nation Political Committee plunged into a detailed debate on disarmament.

Sputnik Stays On Schedule, Fools Experts

Russian Satellite Crosses Coastline Of US on Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sputnik stayed right on schedule today, completely oblivious to dire predictions by earthbound experts of changing orbits, weakening signals and possibly a sudden fiery death.

Scientists at the Naval Research Laboratory here said the Russian satellite is still holding to its original orbit and speed which carries it around the world every 96.1 minutes.

The laboratory's tracking station at Blossom Point, Md., reported that it intercepted strong and clear radio signals from Sputnik this morning, starting at 6:48 a. m. EST and lasting until 7:01.

That time period included the satellite's diagonal crossing of the United States from the northwest to the southeast over northern Wisconsin, across Ohio and out of the United States north of Charleston, S. C. Sputnik crossed over the coastline at 7 a. m. EST exactly on its pre-determined timetable.

The Blossom Point tracking station said Sputnik's radio signal was the same as yesterday, strong in the 40 megacycle band and more of a steady signal instead of the original "beep . . . beep . . . beep . . ."

A spokesman at the laboratory said Sputnik crossed over the northern tip of Maine at 5:20 a. m. EST today but missed the rest of the United States.

At 8:32 a. m. EST the timetable indicated a route across the Canadian border into the United States a little west of Helena, Mont., southward into Colorado west of Denver at 8:34, across the Texas-New Mexico border at 8:36 and across the Texas-Mexico border at 8:38.

All of today's crossings of the United States were in a southeasterly direction. Sputnik will return tonight and make several passes over the country in a northeasterly direction.

Fog over much of the northeast U. S. coast thwarted efforts to get a visual fix on the man-made satellite early today.

Scientists and moonwatchers of a Cambridge team managed to see the satellite above Nova Scotia, northeast of Boston, at 6:40 a. m. EDT. But the fog hid the target, as clouds had done when the Cambridge observers made their first effort yesterday.

Later passes over the United States today plotted for daylight hours when the satellite could not be seen.

Clo Greer Named Oil Progress Queen for 1957

A real queen of beauty is Clo Greer, who Wednesday night was chosen as Oil Progress Queen of 1957 at the Fox Theatre, for being chosen queen is nothing new for Clo. She was Miss Sedalia of 1955 in the queen contest that sent her to the American Royal contest in Kansas City where she was selected as a lady-in-waiting.

Clo is 20 years old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Greer, 163 South Autumn. She is five foot six and a half, with short blond hair, fair skin and brown eyes. Her measurements are 35½-22-36.

A co-ed at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, Clo was gorgeous in a strapless floor-length gown of red satin and net tulle worn over hoops.

She was presented with a certificate entitling her to a $100 complete wardrobe of her choice made of material from petroleum products at Lockett's. She will appear at various civic club meetings.

Second in the contest was Linda Weising, who was presented with a $25 savings bond.

The contest was sponsored by Central Missouri Oil Men's Club.

Old Sedalia Landmark To Get New Aluminum Front, Modern Roof

One of Sedalia's old landmarks will take on a new look soon. The building that now houses the Hillman Battery and Electric Service and Central Missouri Graphic Arts, in the 400 block of South Osage, is in the process of getting a face-lifting.

The third floor is being torn off and a flat roof put on. A new modern aluminum front will be installed along with other repairs to the building. Howard Hillman, owner of the building, stated that the interior will be remodeled in the future.

The building was built in 1895 when the area was still mostly residential by Dr. John R. Trader on the Trader home-site. According to information available, it was intended as a hospital but was never used for that purpose.

This contest was judged by out-of-town judges and was scored on the point system, with the points of each home during the months of May, June, July and August being totaled to determine the winners of the sweepstakes.

Other yards placing high in the point score judging were: class A, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Brown, 1212 Liberty Park; Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Foraker, 306 West Third; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howard, 1805 West Broadway, and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Neville, 1201 South Wagner.

The two sweepstake winners will receive special awards.

The "Yard of the Month" contest was sponsored by the civic activities division of the Chamber of Commerce of which Mrs. Everett White is director and Aaron W. Haller general chairman. Mrs. Herbert Seifert is chairman of the city beautiful committee under that division. Members of that committee are Mrs. T. H. Yount, Mrs. Roy Gerster, Don Anderson and Don King.

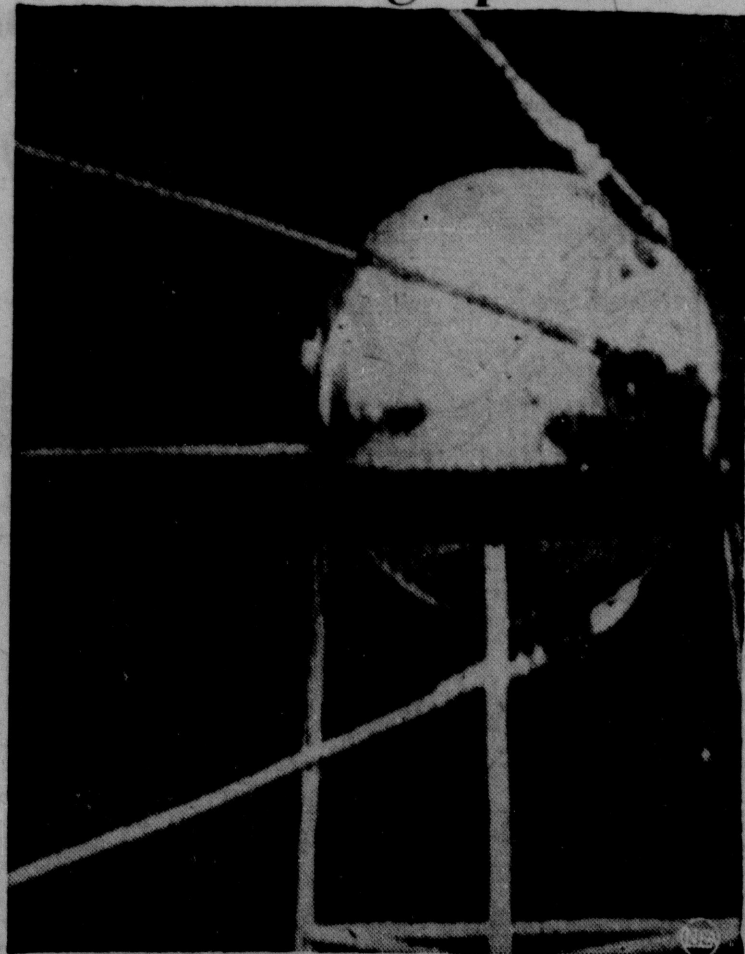

King Saud Continues Arab Peace Efforts

BEIRUT (AP)—King Saud came to Lebanon today and continued his campaign to persuade Arab countries to stop bickering among themselves.

"The Saudi Arabian King appears to have made some headway toward patching up quarrels between Arab countries who have been at loggerheads for months.

Perhaps because of this, Saud found a welcome noticeably larger and warmer than ever before when his plane landed at Beirut Airport. The Lebanese government put more pomp and ceremony than usual into its greeting.

Low Burdette Comes Through In Final Championship Tilt

NEW YORK (AP)—Milwaukee won the World Series today by crushing the New York Yankees, 5-0 in the seventh and deciding game behind the brilliant pitching of Low Burdette.

FIRST:

BRVES: Hazle missed a curve for the third strike. Logan bounced to Kubek who threw him out. Mathews was called out on strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKES: Bauer swung at the first pitch and looped a double over third base just inside the foul line. It marked the 14th straight series game that Bauer has hit in safely, a record.

Slaughter hit back to Burdette and Bauer was trapped between second and third. In the ensuing rundown, Bauer managed to scramble back to second safely when Mathews and Logan failed to close in on the runner, but Slaughter, who had advanced to second during the run down on Bauer, was tagged out by Logan. Mantle tapped a 2-2 pitch back to the box and was out, Burdette to Torre.

Berra was given an intentional pass. McDougal raised a high pop up to Mathews.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SECOND

BRVES—Aaron singled to left. Covington dropped a neat sacrifice bunt and was out, Larsen to Collins.

Torre walked. Mantilla flied deep to Slaughter, Aaron racing to third after the catch with Torre remaining on first.

Crandall rolled to Kubek who tossed to Coleman forcing Torre at second.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

YANKES — Mathews made a spectacular gloved hand stab of Kubek's sizzling grounder inside the third base line and threw him out.

Mathews charged in fast for Coleman's hopper and nipped the runner by half a step.

Collins went down swinging. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD

BRVES — Burdette fouled to Kubek.

Hazle punched a single through the hole between short and third. Logan hit a grounder to Kubek whose throw to second pulled Coleman off the bag and Hazle was safe. Coleman's relay was too late to get Logan, and all hands were safe. An error was charged to Kubek.

Mathews doubled over Collins' head into the right field corner, scoring Hazle and Logan.

That was all for Larsen. Bobby Shantz replaced him on the mound.

Aaron drilled a single through the middle scoring Mathews to put the Braves in front 3-0.

Covington dropped a Texas leaguer into center field, Aaron racing to third.

Torre sent a high chopper to (Please turn to page 8, column 3)

Rival Leaders Of Republic Plan Meeting

Some Communists Threaten to Shoot To Hold Buildings

SAN MARINO (AP)—Leaders of San Marino's two rival governments planned to meet late today as some Communist volunteers threatened to shoot to defend their hold on government buildings.

Leaders of the anti-Communist "White" regime hoped to end the stalemate produced by Communist refusal to surrender the 38-square-mile mountain republic. An earlier agreement broke down last night.

Zaccharia Sovoretti, a member of the White government, said that a final decision might be reached at today's meeting.

Sovoretti said that Domenico Morganti, interior minister and strong man of the Communists, had cautioned patience to avoid possible violence. He said Morganti had warned that some Red volunteers were holding on to their guns and threatening to fire if anti-Communists tried to take over the Capitol.

Morganti told White leaders the Communists hoped to disarm all their volunteers today.

The rival leaders met across the border in nearby Rimini, Italy, early today and a Communist official said later, "We hope to clear things up definitely in further talks."

The anti-Communist forces, recognized by surrounding Italy and other Western nations after they proclaimed their government 10 days ago, had delivered an ultimatum to the Reds to hand over the government.

Domenico Morganti, Communist strong man and interior minister, said his side rejected the ultimatum but added that the Whites could take over the hilltop nation "at any time." The Communists have been occupying government buildings and most of San Marino while their opponents operated from an abandoned factory on the border.

Symphony Concert Will Have Variety

A program ranging from Mozart to Rodgers and Hammerstein will be featured at the first concert of the year by the Sedalia Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Abe Rosenthal, at the Smith-Cotton High School auditorium Oct. 14.

Arabella Hong, lyric-coloratura, will be the guest artist. Miss Hong is one of the rapidly rising young concert artists appearing throughout the United States at the present time.

The program will consist of Adagio-Introduction, Menuetto Allegro, and Allegro spiritoso from "London Symphony" by Joseph Haydn. The orchestra will also present numbers from "South Pacific" before the intermission.

Rimsky-Korsakov's "Scheherazade" and Brahms' "Hungarian Dance No. 5" will be played by the symphony following the intermission. Miss Hong will appear the first portion of the concert and sing "A L'Amour Rendez les Armes" by Rameau; "Di Questa Cetra Inso" by Gluck; and "Allelujah" by Mozart. In her second appearance she will present a group of numbers from Broadway shows, including "I Could Have Danced All Night" from "My Fair Lady"; "I Have Dreamed" from "The King and I"; "I Talked to the Trees" from "Paint Your Wagon"; and "Love is Where You Find It."

Six Deputies Needed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It took six deputy sheriffs to gag and lash a wild young robbery suspect to a steel chair during his trial in Superior Court yesterday.

The defendant, Charles Casabian, 23, shouted obscenities and struggled wildly until the chair was brought in. He continued to tug at his bindings until he jerked loose the bolts holding the chair to the floor.

Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker continued the case until today to permit reinforcement of the chair.

Can Guide a Car

Highway Officials View New Traffic Control System

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Engineers and highway officials from all over the nation gathered today for a field demonstration of a newly developed electronic traffic control system.

This system is based on a series of electronic detector units built into the highway. Cars passing over the specially prepared highway cause signals to be given off which activate warning lights in a variety of ways.

It was developed by a team of scientists from Radio Corp. of America working in cooperation with the Nebraska Department of Roads.

For this field demonstration a series of rectangular loops about 6 by 20 feet were buried in a 320-foot strip of paving at the busy intersection here of Highways 2 and 77. Associated with them are detector elements, antennae, switches, relays and finally a series of lights along the highway.

State Engineer L. N. Rens said this system can operate lights giving right-of-way at a point of merging traffic, warn a driver when he follows too closely behind another vehicle, indicate the presence of an obstacle in the highway ahead, warn a driver when he is going too fast, tell a driver when it is safe to pull out and pass.

When special equipment is installed in cars all these signals can be given by light and sound right at the instrument panel of a car. With the use of a "guide wire" laid in the paving a car can be guided automatically in its traffic lane.

And with other special equipment, Rens said, "the signals generated by the detecting elements will control brakes, steering gear and engine speed to provide fully automatic driving along entire highways or in specific areas where it may be advisable for reasons of safety."

Fire Rate High

City's Fire Protection System Dates Back to Days of Horses

EDITOR'S NOTE: This story is a part of the background leading up to the proposal of a new Community Center Building, two new fire stations and two pumps to be voted upon by Sedalia residents in a special election on Nov. 5.

Sedalia's two fire stations were set up and operating in their present locations by the 1880's. The first motorized pumper was obtained in 1913, and a second was added in 1918.

It's perfectly true to say that our fire protection system dates from 1918.

Or, if we take into account the fact that 1957 traffic cancels out the advantage in speed that a truck has over a horse—it could even be said that our fire protection system dates from the 1880's!

Sedalia is not alone in this predicament. Cities all over the United States are waking up to the fact that the fire danger today is winning the race against protection.
During the past few years, there have been over a half million fires reported each year in the nation, while property damage has climbed above the one billion mark annually—not to mention the tragic loss of lives.

In 1956 Sedalia had a reported fire loss of $112,000. Fire alarms averaged more than one a day.
Our rate of fires in buildings, 8.6 per thousand population, was the highest in Missouri for cities in the over-20,000 population class.
What's more, Sedalia during the past few years has consistently had the highest or near-highest
sand.

STILL SAME LOCATION—The early day horse-drawn fire wagon in the picture above is shown in front of one of Sedalia's fire stations that are still in use.

This fire rate is no reflection on Chief John Lueck and his men—it simply shows the size of the problem they face, even without the added handicap of the distance of the fire stations from many of the fires. It is greatly to their credit that fire losses have been held as low as they have been.

No doubt, the lowness of the fire loss is due in part to the fact that Sedalia firemen have painstakingly planned every motion, and drilled endlessly, to get the trucks out of the stations and to the scene of the fire with seconds to spare. Nor should we forget that they have carefully learned the best use of every modern technique within their reach.

The problem that faces Sedalia firemen is basic, and very simple:
if the fire is twice as far away,

it will take twice as long to get there.

Firemen have a saying: "The first five minutes at the blaze are worth the next five hours!" If our firemen get to the blaze after this critical five minutes is up, we can't blame them if the fire gets out of control.

This is a very proper concern to every citizen who stops to think.
"What if my home catches fire tonight?"

Firemen have another saying.
"It isn't one big fire that kills us—it's the second big fire that breaks out while we are all fighting the first one!" We are simply lucky in Sedalia that we have not had this "second big fire" in recent years—but the fire experts tell us that sooner or later the law of averages is going to catch up with us.

Both problems—the distance of the fire stations from many potential blazes, and the possibility of two serious fires breaking out at the same time—are a very real worry to Chief Lueck and his men.

The adequacy of our fire protection is going to be a major factor in attracting new payrolls to Sedalia. We know that it is a consideration to every commercial establishment or industrial firm already located in our community—or thinking about building here.

It is also a concern to the Missouri Inspection Bureau, which sets fire insurance rates on commercial and industrial properties, as well as on homes.

When Sedalia's present fire stations were first built—on Kentucky Avenue, and at Fourth and Montgomery—these locations were well chosen to serve the city as it then existed.

But Sedalia has grown a lot since 1880. Much more important than increase of population has been the steady trend of building outward from the center of the city. During one five-year period alone, 1950-1955, building permits were issued for more than 830 residential units, and for 61 commercial and industrial structures
—all within the city limits.

Today there are large built-up areas outside the zone of protection originally planned for our fire department. The plain truth is, Sedalia has outgrown its fire protection and is vulnerable to a major disaster.

The roots of the licorice plant reach 20 to 25 feet below the surface before they are dug up to

Miss Nancy Neel Becomes Bride Of R. Burnett

Miss Nancy Carolyn Neel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neel, Oklahoma City, Okla., and Ross Arlen Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Burnett, Ardmore, Okla., were married at 8 o'clock Friday evening, September 6, at Crown Heights Christian Church in Oklahoma City.

The bride's mother is the former Verda Curry of Sedalia. Arrangements of candelabra and palms flanking a satin prie-dieu formed the setting for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with a square neckline and short sleeves. The bouffant skirt of lace had a crystal-pleated tulle dust ruffle in front, caught up in back with pleated ruffles forming a bustle effect. A pearl crown held her illusion veil and she carried a cascade of white carnations, lilies of the valley and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Milt Pennington was the bride's attendant. She wore a dress of yellow chiffon over net and taffeta and a short, fitted lace jacket. Her yellow bandeau held a circular veil and she carried a cascade of yellow carnations.

Leonard Burnett served his son as best man. Charles Neel, brother of the bride, was usher.

The bride's mother wore a Wedgwood blue peau de soie sheath dress and jacket with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a navy silk crepe dress trimmed with white lace. Her accessories were navy and both had orchid corsages.

A reception was held in the Patricia Room at O'Neale's following the ceremony. The various refreshment tables were covered with white organdy cloths over yellow satin.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the couple will reside in Norman, Okla., where the bride is a senior and the bridegroom a junior student at the University of Oklahoma. For travel, the bride wore a beige embroidered cotton dress with black accessories.

Man Finds Californians Ready to Help

CALIPATRIA, Calif. (U)—Japanese-born Takeo Momita is a druggist in this Imperial Valley community of some 2,500 persons.

While driving with his wife to visit a married daughter in Los Angeles last Saturday, Momita was involved in a head-on collision. His wife Shizuko, 50, was killed. A delegation of friends and city officials called on Momita at a hospital, where he was recovering from lacerations and shock.

"Give us the keys to your store," said Mayor Edward Rademacher. "We'll keep things going until you get back on your feet."

Townfolk took turns running Momita's drugstore. They kept it operating just as if he were there. Chester Thompson, druggist in nearby Brawley, came over a few hours a day and worked in the pharmacy department.

Momita, 56, an American citizen for three years, has been operating the store since shortly after World War II. He spent the war with his family in a relocation camp near Poston, Ariz., as part of the government's program for persons of Japanese ancestry. Momita, born in Hiroshima, came under the program even though he had been in the United States since 1908.

Today Momita is recuperating at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Louise Kikawa in Gardena, a suburb of Los Angeles.

Mayor Rademacher said the townfolk will continue to run his store until he is well enough to take over.

"This is not like the Little Rock story," the mayor said. "It is the story of the better side of our life that too often is not presented."

"It's good to know you're part of the community," said Momita.

Explains Special Election to Council

The Sedalia PTA Council met Wednesday, Oct. 12 at the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Charles Arnold gave the devotional. Robert Gouge played two piano solos, "Dance of Rubber Dolls" and "Hob Goblins". A skit, "Wrong-Way Corrigan", was given by Mrs. Kenzie Miller, Mrs. Jack Horndon, Mrs. Haskell Cook, Mrs. Price Alexander, Mrs. Lacey Belt, Mrs. W. Vaughan, Mrs. William Hiatt and Mrs. Worth Wilson.

Mrs. S. J. Timbrious, chairman of the Sedalia planning and zoning commission, introduced Frank Hawkins, who spoke on the proposals of the special election, November 5.

Mrs. Sam Knapp conducted the business meeting, asking all units for reports of their school activities. Refreshments were served by Broadway School during the social hour.

The 24-pound cannon which fires Dominion Day salutes at old Fort Henry, Kingston, Ontario, Canada, was cast in 1797.

Mother's A Good Teacher
PUEBLO, Colo. (U)—Ten-year-old Gaylord Nordstrom taught his mother, Mrs. Bernice Nordstrom, a thing or two about cooking during the Colorado state fair.

Gaylord won blue ribbons on both his white and chocolate cakes and a second place ribbon with a nut loaf cake. Mrs. Nordstrom won third place in the nut loaf cake division.

October is Cheese Month

October is Cheese Month, and we can expect some additional attention to be given to cheese in our retail stores. This is the time to make new cheese acquaintances. So shop at the cheese counter carefully. Also this is the time of year when cooking with cheese is popular. Cheese fits into meal plans in soups, salads, desserts. But remember cheese is a concentrated food. Any dish with quite a bit of cheese in it belongs in the main-dish class. Cheese contains in concentrated form almost all the protein and usually most of the fat, as well as essential minerals, vitamins, and other nutrients, of milk.

Keep a variety of cheese on hand. Refrigerate and keep tightly wrapped for best flavor.

1/2 pound of cheese equals about two cups shredded cheese.

1 1/2 ounces Natural American Cheese equals one glass of milk in protein and calcium.

Winter Squash

The winter varieties of squash with their bright colors and varied shapes not only make interesting displays but are also tasty, popular, economical vegetables of many uses. Whether you use one of this fall's bright orange squashes as a kitchen door-stopper, or as a meal-stopper in creamy squash pie, now is the time to take advantage of the variety of fall squashes. Pick your choice of acorn, butternut, butternut or Hubbard.

Squashes are versatile and they can be cooked, canned or frozen, and served most any way that pleases the family. Use as a hot buttered vegetable, baked, boiled, or steamed; as a main dish—with cheese, ham, sausage, creole sauce; as a dessert, in custard or pies.

A half-cup of winter squash supplies the day's need of vitamin A. Squash also has some vitamin B, riboflavin, niacin, calcium, phosphorus and iron. Fall and winter squash has about 126 calories per pound of edible flesh.

When squash shopping look for: hard, firm skin; free from blemishes, heavy for size; clear, bright colored in appearance.

Acorn — is acorn shaped. Hard, dark green shell with deep ridges. Flesh — yellow and fibrous. Small, usually serves two. Very popular, often called "Table Queen". Cook without paring it. Bake it whole, or cut in half or quarters, with the cut-side down. Serve it buttered, with bacon drippings or with brown sugar.

Butternut—Bell or gourd shaped. Smooth, light-tan, thin skin. Small seed cavity. Fine grain, mealy-textured flesh, and free from blemishes.

Butternut — Flat turban-shaped with predominate button or turban on top. Green to orange-red, thickly warted skin. Thick, yellow flesh and nutty flavor. By cutting around the cap the seeds can be taken out. The cap can then be replaced and the whole squash baked in the shell.

Hubbard—A giant squash. Hard, coarsely warted skin. Heavy for size. Usually bluish-green color. It is often cut into family-size sections when offered for sale. To prepare, remove seeds and fibers and cut into serving pieces. Bake

WACs Told To Shape Up By Saturday

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — The WAC detachment in Yokohama has been told to shape up before Saturday, with an assist from falsies and girdles where necessary.

The word came from the outfit's new — and shapely — young commander. Some of the girls think Lt. Jeanne Wolcott of Kent, Ohio, went too far. One subordinate said she might write her congressman.

"I didn't exactly order them," the pretty lieutenant said today. "I just told them, and next Saturday I'll see what's been done."

The advice, a "girl-to-girl talk," came after Lt. Wolcott's first inspection last Saturday of her 96 woman detachment. The female outfit is on duty at the Army regional camp in Yokohama.

This is what the lady looney says she found when she inspected:

Only one of the 96 women standing inspection "met specifications perfectly."

Most of the faults were minor. Some "did not fill their WAC uniforms properly."

"Some of the young ladies who are not too gifted in some ways were told they could make improvements. For a few who were beginning to bulge a bit, I suggested girdles. For a few others I suggested padding for the shoulders—and elsewhere."

"When a WAC isn't well endowed," the lieutenant explained, "the uniform has a tendency to dip in front of the shoulders. Padding at the shoulders will take the dip out. So will falsies."

Lt. Wolcott admitted that neither falsies nor girdles are government issue. The girls must buy their own.

"For this reason I couldn't order them to improve their appearance, and there will be no disciplinary action against any who refuse to do so," she assured.

She hastened to add that she thinks her WACs "are among the best and I want them to be the best looking in the world."

Come Saturday, a male officer from headquarters will inspect the feminine detachment.

"But he certainly will make no comment on padding or girdles," said Lt. Wolcott.

Haiti is the original Indian name for all of the islands of Hispaniola. It means "mountainous land." If the sun were twice as far away from the earth, it would seem only one-fourth as bright, says the National Geographic Society.

Homemaking Is Subject

State Extension Club Agent
Is Achievement Day Speaker

"Homemaking is a profession and a career. You are all career girls," Mrs. Marian Beebe, state club agent, University of Missouri, told the Pettis County Extension Club women at their annual Achievement Day program Friday, Oct. 4, at the First Methodist Church, Sedalia.

Mrs. Beebe's talk was entitled "Homemaking Is an Art." She also told the group to not over-estimate their influence upon their marriage. Homemaking demands a diversity of talents. A homemaker is a wife, mother and housewife.

Young homemakers who had graduated from the Young Homemakers School were introduced. All young homemakers present were invited to register for the next school to be held in February and March. Fourteen present indicated they were interested in another school.

The day's activities started with the placing of exhibits by 27 of the 30 clubs.

Ten subjects were used as the theme for the exhibits. Club presidents had drawn for subjects. These were: food, clothing, home management, health, 4-H, dramatics, civil defense, public affairs, reading and community improvement. Outstanding and unusual educational exhibits were displayed by 27 clubs. A turkey luncheon was served to 102 persons. The Missouri Turkey Growers Federation cooperated with the noon luncheon by providing one turkey. Also turkey recipe leaflets were provided by the Federation for all attending the program.

Mrs. E. L. Bohon, Jr., county council president, conducted the afternoon program. Group singing was led by Mrs. L. F. Raabe. Mrs. M. T. Dabner showed a movie of last year's Achievement Day dress revue. Mrs. Buell Hoard, council secretary, gave a report of the state council meeting held in Columbia in August.

Miss Opal O'Brian, county home agent, conducted a roll call by telling of some activity of each club during the past year. If the club could recognize its activity, it answered roll call by all members standing. The new Elk Fork Extension Club recently organized by the Camp Branch Extension Club and the Oak Grove recently reorganized as an extension club were recognized.

State Standard of Achievement awards were presented to 23 clubs and county awards to three clubs.

Ten clubs receiving state awards were also presented gold seals for rating a score of 100 each. These clubs were: Camp Branch Homemakers, Dresden Homemakers, Hopewell Homemakers, Longwood Extension Club, Meet Your Neighbor Extension Club, Prairie Ridge Extension Club, Smelser Willing Workers, South Abell, Striped College Homemakers and Tanglenook Homemakers.

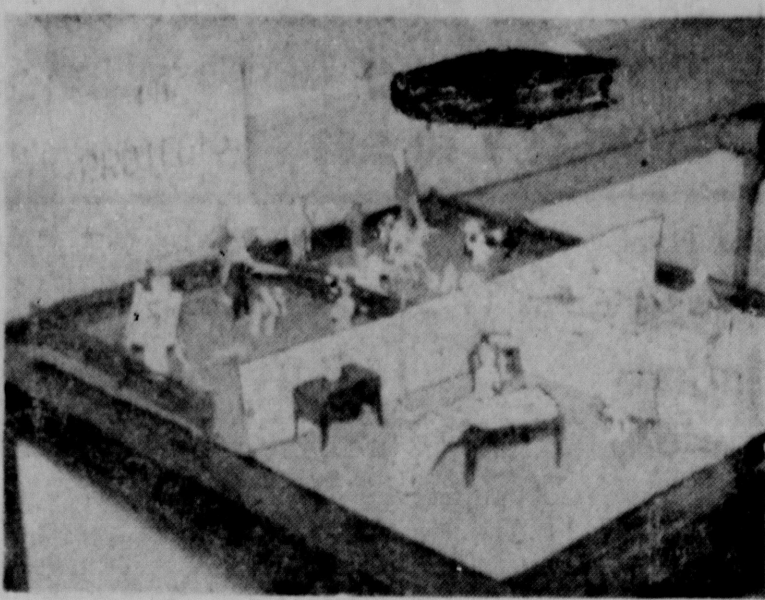

Mrs. Bohon installed the officers for the coming year with a very impressive ceremony entitled "The Home." The officers are Mrs. Floyd Egbert, president, Mrs. O. E. Richards, vice-president, Mrs. Buell Hoard, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Keele, treasurer. The remaining club presidents were included in the installation by standing with the elected officers thus pledging their support to them. Mrs. Bohon was assisted by Mrs. Paul Curtiss, Elk Fork Club, who represented the home and county home agent, Opal O'Brian, who represented the University of Missouri Agricultural Extension Service. Mrs. Bohon was presented a gift from the council by Mrs. Charles Keele in appreciation for her fine work as county council president the past two years.

Mrs. Albert Runge, Georgetown Extension Club, was in charge of the luncheon.

Mrs. John Linville, Striped College Homemakers, was in charge of registration. Mrs. O. E. Welfare Chief Says Paralytic
Polio Is Down 80 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Folsom today reported a dramatic 80 per cent reduction in paralytic polio in this country over the past two years. A sharp decline was noted also in the less severe nonparalytic cases.

Folsom said the success of Salk polio vaccine provides the means for "a knockout blow" to the disease next year if the millions of Americans under 40 who still have not done so will get the full three recommended doses.

He spoke out in a statement launching a new program to encourage use of the vaccine.

He reported that the number of paralytic polio cases this year up through Sept. 28 was only 1,576, compared with 7,886 two years ago, before widespread use of the Salk vaccine, and 5,241 cases up to this time in 1956.

A check of records showed deaths from polio in the first seven months of this year were estimated at 130, compared with an estimated 220 for the similar 1956 span and an actual 237 in the corresponding 1955 period.

"If people will use the vaccine available, it is possible to give paralytic polio a knockout blow within the next year," Folsom said.

"Still, more than 37 million Americans under 40 have received no vaccine, and 44 million have taken only one or two doses and have yet to complete the full schedule of three doses.

"It will be a tragedy if, simply because of public apathy, vaccine which might prevent paralysis or even death lies on the shelf unused."

He recalled that a big supply of unused vaccine developed last fall only to disappear quickly with the start of this year's polio season. Supplies again are start-

Bond Firm Representative Is Speaker

Frank W. Hawkins, representative of Luce, Thompson and Crow Inc., bond and investment company, was the speaker at the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday night at the Bothwell Hotel. He spoke on the coming city bond election for $1,150,000 to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 5.

He was introduced by Earl Crawford, a member of the City Planning and Zoning Commission. Crawford reviewed the activity of the Commission in its study of the proposed Municipal Community Center for $1,000,000 and the two proposed new fire stations and facilities of $150,000.

Crawford also reviewed the 1955-56 city planning report and study of Hare and Hare, city planners, who, in their report recommended both projects be presented to the people of Sedalia.

Hawkins emphasized the added bond tax would be no more than 20 cents per $100 valuation and that under the current market price could possibly run some less. He explained, as an example, that for a person who had property assessed at $2,000 the tax on the bonded indebtedness would be $4 per year.

He reviewed the proposed buildings, especially the Municipal Community Center, which will house the city offices on the first floor, the auditorium which can be used for various types of functions such as conventions, banquets, and athletics.

In reviewing the proposals, Hawkins told the group the city was under no obligation to its firm, that their part in introducing the proposals was only a part of the firm's services through its public relations department. He also stated the city is not paying his firm any fees for this service.

Following his talk, the club took part in a question and answer forum.

Miss Janice Fowler, Miss Sedalia, who will represent Sedalia at the American Royal at Kansas City next week, was a guest of the club and was introduced.

Guests at the meeting were Jim Harrison, of A. B. Warren; Charles Edwards of Roy E. Gerster; and Fred Stahlin, St. Joseph, of Don L. King.

VFW Officer Blames US Army for Troubles Over Girard Incident

HONOLULU (AP)—A Veterans of Foreign Wars senior vice commander says repercussions in Japan from the "Girard incident" were unnecessary. He blames the U.S. Army for most of the trouble.

John Mahan of Helena, Mont., the VFW official, went to Japan to represent the organization at the trial of Army Specialist William S. Girard, who killed Mrs. Naka Sakai with a blank cartridge as she was picking up brass scraps on a U.S. firing range.

Mahan said if the Army had gone immediately to Mrs. Sakai's family, apologized and offered to help, the Japanese people might never have demanded Girard's trial in Japanese courts.

Mahan left last night for Washington to report to legislative representatives of the VFW.

Sweden's King Spends Part of Vacation Digging in Cemetery

SAN GIOVENALE DE BLERA, Italy (AP)—Sweden's King Gustaf is spending part of his vacation on his hands and knees, digging here on the site of an ancient Etruscan cemetery 50 miles north of Rome.

The 75-year-old monarch, an archaeology buff, arrived last week to spend month with a party from the Swedish Institute in Rome. They are trying to find relics of the Etruscan and other pre-Roman civilizations.

Newsmen yesterday found the king wearing a gray sweater, mountain boots and a beret. At one point he dropped to his knees to dig carefully with a little knife, bringing out an ancient bit of ceramic.

Florida Solons Fail to Stop Integration

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — One anti-integration bill blossomed from the Legislature which adjourned last night and a critic labeled it a dud.

The last resort bill, which stirred legislators strongest, died in a confusing final day along with two other measures aimed at keeping integration from the schoolhouse door in Florida.

Sen. Tom Adams, one of the strongest promoters of last resort school suspension, said of the measure which was passed—the Moody bill to close schools if federal troops are called out — “we have only a padlock to put on the barn door after the horse escaped.”

Temperatures were so taut and feelings so high that one senator, Hervie Belser, withdrew from the Senate. He said he was quitting because of the Legislature's refusal to pass more stringent anti-integration measures.

All other bills to block integration withered on the vine in the Senate. Up to adjournment, last resort advocates still had hopes of getting some form of their pet legislation through the session.

Put to sleep by the adjournment were the so-called parent option bill to permit a county school board to allow withdrawal of a child from an integrated school upon petition of a parent, and the “jury mercy” bill. The latter would permit jury trials for persons accused of violating the school attendance law and if the jury recommended mercy the fine would be only $1.

The last resort would permit closing of public schools after a local option referendum if integration were threatened.

NATO Leader Avoids Group On Norway Trip

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Gen. Hans Spideel slipped out of Norway today after an overnight visit without encountering demonstrators protesting his service under Hitler.

Spideel, West Germany's top military man who now commands NATO ground forces in central Europe, flew from Rygge Air Force Base, 30 miles from Oslo. He landed there yesterday to avoid a crowd waiting to demonstrate at the Oslo airport.

Spideel was traveling with French Gen. Jean Valluy, his NATO superior. The group drove out to the air base at such speed that they shook off newsmen. However, there was no crowd at the Oslo airport, where the generals were scheduled to leave an hour later.

On his northern tour Spideel had been booed in Copenhagen, which Nazi forces also occupied during World War II.

About 5,000 persons demonstrated in Oslo yesterday against his visit and workers staged brief protest strikes throughout the country.

Spideel was jailed by the Nazis after the July 20, 1944, bomb plot against Hitler. He was teaching history when the West German government called him back into uniform in 1950.

Encourage 'Yield Signs'

Good old America!

The place where a person may express personal opinions on almost every subject without being shot at or jailed so long as the public peace isn't disturbed. Still there are some who wonder how the bridge game kibitzers get by without suffering mayhem.

Among those things about which opinions differ are the increasing number of stop signs to control modern traffic. Such signs in a growing city can become a nuisance and defeat their purpose. St. Louis is an example of uncontrolled use of stop signs.

Sedalia has a growing number of these signs, too, although observation of them indicates most drivers do not come to a full stop as required. More or less common practice is to slow down, then proceed cautiously into or across an intersection. This is not the stop required by law but is the "yield right of way maneuver".

Traffic engineers are beginning to look more favorably upon "yield" signs instead of so many "stop" markers. The Ontario legislature has even gone so far as to permit "yield" signs as a substitute for "stop" signs.

In this connection a driver approaching a "Yield" sign must slow to a speed of 15 miles per hour or less. If no other vehicles are either in or approaching the intersection so closely from the intersecting highway as to constitute a hazard, he may proceed. If such vehicles are in or near the intersection, he must yield the right of way by stopping until it is safe to proceed.

Traffic engineers are reporting improvement in accident experience at intersections where "Yield" signs have been erected. They look forward confidently to the day when the signs are sufficiently well known that they may be more widely, and wisely used instead of "Stop" signs.

Of course, this requires that in locating signs careful studies must be made of the accident experience at the intersection, the approach speed, the view, grade, width of road, and traffic volume. In Toronto, of 18 locations studied in the six months prior to the erection of signs, there was a total of 45 accidents. In the six months following the placing of "Yield" signs there were just 25 accidents.

The idea may meet with resistance—everyone has a right to personal opinion—but since so many Sedalians are behaving at "Stop" signs like they were "Yield" signs, why not make the signs that way where traffic checks indicate they would be more acceptable? Otherwise everyone who doesn't come to a full stop at a "Stop" sign is violating the law.

Ike's Attitude Toward Satellite: So What?

By ED CREAGH

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's attitude toward the Soviet satellite could be summed up in two words: So what?

Many people—scientists, military men and the rest of us—have reacted somewhat differently. Some are alarmed, others are embarrassed that the Russians got there first, most are fascinated at the very least.

But not the President. He has asked himself: What did the Russians really accomplish?

And he gave his answer at a news conference yesterday: "Apparently, from what they say, they have put one small ball in the air."

Eisenhower showed less concern about this than he has been seen to show over the progress of one small ball from the fairway to the green.

No sarcasm is intended. The President was plainly aware of the worldwide uproar over the miniature moon. He came prepared with a long statement on the subject—something he rarely does.

But the essence of his words was: What's everybody so excited about? We could have done it ourselves if we had wanted to. And what does it really amount to, after all?

Others may say—and are saying—that the Russians have scored an historic triumph. There is all manner of speculation about what happens next: Do the Russians zoom ahead in missile development?

Do they beat us to the moon? One British rocket expert, Arthur C. Clarke, goes so far as to say the United States became a second-class power when the Russians shot their small ball into space.

Eisenhower has a word for this sort of talk: hysteria.

He said he realized all along that the Russians would get "a great psychological advantage in

What They Say

C. R. TEVIS (Lincoln, Mo.)—If Mr. E. F. Hutton, the Sedalia Democrat-Capital columnist, will read the speech of the Hon. Joe L. Evins of Tennessee in the House of Representatives, Wednesday, May 22, 1957, he can obtain the true facts on TVA. The speech is in the Congressional Record in the proceedings and debates of the 85th Congress, first session.

In case Hutton does not go to that much trouble or is afraid to, here are a few true facts:

TVA was not set up as a free grant from the government, but by loans that have interest and principal paying periods. TVA is required to repay the Federal investment within 40 years. If it continues to repay at the rate it has been paying, it would return the entire investment in less than 25 years. At the same time TVA has invested $339 million in capital improvements, which is considerably more than the depreciation of the plant. In other words, TVA has cost the taxpayer not one penny. The entire investment will be paid off and it will still belong to the Federal Government—taxpayers.

REA is also receiving interest and principal on loans extended to the cooperatives. Also ahead of schedule. To date the program has not cost the taxpayer one penny. The cooperatives also pay taxes. It is estimated that REA resulted in over $3 billion worth of new business to various firms over the entire country.

Here is just one paragraph on the tight money policy—it is costing the taxpayer $7 billion more in interest alone on the national debt. Just draw your own conclusions on who is getting this extra interest! If it is the low interest rates to Federal power projects and REA that gripes Mr. Hutton, the big power companies, Mr. Eisenhower and his Wall Street cronies, then why give England a $2 billion dollar loan at 2 per cent interest and deferred payments?

Now comes the farm subsidy business. Apparently Mr. Hutton is quoting from the editorial in Life Magazine on subsidies to farmers. That is guts, nerve or anything you want to call it, when actually the taxpayer has dug down in his pocket to the tune of $2 billion dollars the past ten years, to pay the deficit in cost of delivery on second class mailing.

The total loss in the farm program from 1933-1952 (20 years before Benson) $1,223,431,090 1953 to June 30, 1957 $6,091,900,977 Total $7,315,332,067 Add the $2 billion mailing deficit to the $4.7 billion subsidy in tax certificates to the big power companies and you come close to the $7 billion figure. Then just go down the line—airline subsidies, railroads, shipping, steel, oil and so on.

I do not believe in subsidies either—not for any person or any one corporation. And I do not like propaganda!

world politics" if they were first with the satellite. But he said this country was concerned with orderly scientific research, not with propaganda, and "there didn't seem to be a reason for just trying to grow hysterical" about beating the Russians.

Nobody spoke up in favor of hysteria. Hardly anybody ever does. Nobody asked, either, why this country wasn't concerned with "psychological advantage," when it spends millions each year trying to convince the rest of the world that Americans are smarter and nicer than Russians.

Is the President satisfied with U.S. progress in missile development? He said he naturally wishes we were farther along, but is "not dissatisfied" with what's been done to date.

Is the country now going to put more money and effort into missile development? Eisenhower said the scientists have been given all the support they asked for and "that is all I can do." (His new secretary of defense, Neil H. McElroy, said a little later that serious consideration is being given to a missile speedup. McElroy said no action has been taken yet.)

Whether the President is being wisely calm or foolishly complacent is a question that only history can answer, not that plenty of people won't try to guess the answer in the meantime.

Some will argue that to discuss the satellite as "one small ball in the air" is like calling the first controlled fusion reaction a little brush fire.

Others will contend that the President isn't being taken in by any Soviet publicity stunt even if some of his critics are. And, as the President suggests, that it's better to proceed with an orderly military-scientific research program than to go beeping off into space.

Anybody who happens to get hit by a guided missile in the course of this great debate may be excused for going a little hysterical.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D. Sleep is one of life's mysteries to which we give little concern. A certain amount of rest is required every day in order to keep our bodies and minds functioning in their normal manner. This requirement is not easily explained from the standpoint of mere mechanical activity.

One might well believe that the body could continue to function until it wears out as does a motor or a light bulb. Is it possible that nature replaces worn out parts in this brief respite? If this is so, where are the replacements stored? Is it possible that the body contains some kind of refueling? Answers to these questions and many more can partially be explained by physiologists.

Regardless of the technical process which takes place, the revitalization occurs in a way developed by God alone. All of God's ways are superhuman. His way with the spirit of man is even more mysterious and amazing. Let us thank God for His gifts which we use whether we can understand them or not.

U.S. Naval and Air bases in Spain will cost $135 million dollars when completed. They have been under construction since 1954.

When the Chips Are Down

Sea Watch, Strike Back, Deep Water May Fade Out

By JOSEPH A. DEAR

Of Our Washington Bureau

LONDON—Officially the vast NATO naval maneuvers have been acclaimed a huge success. But, to an extent, this facade of optimism conceals serious allied shortcomings and gnawing doubts.

First, account must be taken of the assumption on which the maneuvers were based: That for a month Russia and the United States were clobbering each other with H-bombs. Then the NATO allies launched a counter-attack on a front extending from the freezing seas off Norway to the sunny waters of the Eastern Mediterranean.

To stage this counter-attack, the Navy had to keep open sea lanes between England and America. Else no shipments could reach whatever British might be still alive after a month of atomic war. And the maneuvers have clearly shown that the sea lanes can't be kept open.

Exercise SEA WATCH convinced Admiral Sir John Eccles, the crusty Britisher commanding the Eastern Atlantic area. Sir John bluntly said he was tempted to turn in his cap. NATO forces wouldn't be able to master the Russian submarine threat with equipment available now.

And if Russia has atom powered subs, the naval effort to support counter-attacking land forces in Europe might fail too. That was what Exercise STRIKEBACK was all about.

The U.S. Navy lent its atom sub Nautilus to "aggressor forces" in STRIKEBACK. Nautilus played hob with the NATO fleet. It was officially credited with a torpedo hit against the carrier Intrepid.

To put this in perspective, it should be recalled that Admiral Jerauld Wright, Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic, before the exercise was asked if Nautilus would be "permitted" to torpedo a carrier. Wright said of course, but fancied it would be the other way around. It wasn't.

Nautilus, streaking undetected through the depths, nailed the Intrepid. Practically speaking, Nautilus was all the "aggressor force" had. Maybe the Russians have atomic subs. In view of recent Russian achievement, there seems no reason to assume we have them edged in any area.

In the Mediterranean, exercise DEEP WATER went off without a hitch. Seven thousand Marines from the East Coast of the United States slammed "Reds" in Thrace Turkey. One third of this Marine force was helicopter borne. The rest hit the beaches old style.

Consensus is that no one, not even the Marines, could successfully land that way if opposed by an enemy with nuclear capability. And that's what the enemy was granted by the exercise planners.

Of course, some assumptions have to be made in order to create problems for the exercises. The particular assumption that was made—Russia and USA plastering each other with atomic weapons for a month—made these exercises ludicrous to Air Force types. After a month of atomic war, according to air power buffs, there just wouldn't be anything left to fight over. And as for keeping sea lanes open, no point to that. Because nothing that could influence the outcome of the war is going to be moved after the war begins.

The Marines, Naval aviation and top Navy brass will give you an argument on this. But many, many officers give the impression that they couldn't care less. And that is disturbing.

For it suggests that the professional officer corps isn't really professional. It is impossible to escape the impression that for many officers a naval career is nothing more than a good job—a better deal than industry or Madison Avenue offers. Talk with Marine officers or Navy fly boys and you get another impression. They aren't just a job. It's a way of life. And against a dedicated enemy, this is a difference that could count when the chips are down.

SINCE THE BOYS and the girls of the church were having a contest with so many points for certain things they do, and one of the things was attending church service, the older of two little boys in the family felt he must be at the church services one night.

That was the night that the father of the family was to go around visiting members of the congregation in an effort to raise money for the church, and when the older boy wanted to go to church, the smaller boy wanted to go, too. Since he is always doing something that leaves father in a dither, the father hesitated to leave the youngster at the church but finally decided, since he was out working for the Lord, surely the little boy would be safest in church of anywhere.

Well, it seems that in that church a child may pay a dime and have the privilege of lighting a candle. Since the older brother was an altar boy and got to light candles, the little one thought there was no reason why he shouldn't, too.

When the father returned to the church after his youngsters, he found that the little one had been on a candlelighting spree—and had no idea how many candles he had lighted. "Did you light the ones as high as you could reach?" the father asked, and the little boy told him he got up on the altar steps to light some of them.

Father wasn't exactly certain how many the boy really lighted, but he shelved out $2.70 which he felt would surely take care of it, and took his little cherub home.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Satellite Dulls US Bargaining Position

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Andrei Gromyko got his first introduction to Washington as the dour, uncommunicative secretary of the Soviet embassy on 16th Street. He lived not far from the White House in the mansion once owned by Mrs. Pullman of the Pullman car company, whose president was Robert Todd Lincoln, son of Abe Lincoln. That residence, however, was Gromyko's only connection with American tradition.

John Foster Dulles first saw Washington as a young adviser to his uncle, Robert Lansing, Secretary of State for Woodrow Wilson; his grandfather, John Foster, was Secretary of State in Benjamin Harrison's cabinet; and John Foster was steeped in American tradition. His great ambition was to become Secretary of State.

I do not know what Andrei Gromyko's ambition was, or whether a Communist bureaucrat is supposed to have ambition. But I do know that Gromyko eventually worked up the Communist ladder until he became ambassador in that old Pullman mansion on 16th Street, and later minister of foreign affairs.

Simultaneously, John Foster Dulles had come from one of the oldest, most renowned law firms on Wall Street to become a specialist in foreign affairs, then Secretary of State. Both men officially were equal, but unofficially Dulles was always to talk to Gromyko from a position of prestige and power—the prestige of his background and the power of having the H-bomb, the A-bomb, and the greatest air force in the world.

Last week, however, that situation was reversed. As these two men sat down in Dulles's colonial mansion overlooking Rock Creek, our Secretary of State found himself talking to a man whose country had developed the intercontinental ballistic missile, a new jet transport, and an earth satellite which electrified the world.

There could have been no worse time for Foster Dulles to have held this talk. But he had to. Events in various parts of the world were slipping away from his government.

I do not know the specific details of what the two men talked about, but I do know that before they began talking this was what faced John Foster Dulles. This was why he asked Gromyko to sit down face to face.

1. The Turkish ambassador had been calling at the State Department repeatedly to warn that Turkey was not going to stand still while Russia built up a vast army base in Syria to the south, and kept a Russian fleet three times the size of the U. S. 6th Fleet to the north in the Black Sea.

2. Turkish Prime Minister Menderes hinted to the American embassy in Ankara that Turkey might take things into its own hands regarding the big Russian arms base in Syria unless President Eisenhower makes a bold move to halt Russian expansion in the Near East.

ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS (Denver): 12-Month School Term? The Governor of South Carolina apparently said to the Governor of North Carolina: "Let's spoil a good argument by introducing some facts."

As discussion of the 12-month school term gathered heat at Williamsburg, Gov. George Bell Timmerman of South Carolina reported his state Legislature had voted for a practical test.

The state will set up, as an experiment, a model school system, operating the full year. It will try to find out how the children and teachers like it, whether it saves money and how it affects education.

If the experiment works, the whole country will be indebted to South Carolina. If it doesn't, not much will be lost compared to the possible cost of trying out this new-fangled idea on a national scale.

Gov. Luther H. Hodge of neighboring North Carolina indicates an active interest, saying the system might make possible the education of 25 per cent more pupils with little added cost.

We will wait and see what happens in South Carolina, meanwhile noting that this is a good example of "individual initiative and community responsibility" of the kind through which the "self-governing genius of our people is perpetually renewed."

Conference Game

Tigers Will Meet Pirates Friday Nite

By STAN JONES
Friday night the Smith-Cotton Tigers play their first home conference game at Jenny Jaynes Stadium against the river pirates from Hannibal. The Bengals will be out to snap their three game losing streak. The boys have had a disappointing season with one win and three losses, but the one win was a conference victory against Fulton, 26-0. So with the conference record clean the team will be fighting hard to win the conference title.

The two opponents tonight will be about equal. The Pirate line averages 176, with the Tiger's averaging 178. The visitor's biggest man is left guard, Jeff Whitaker, weighing 221, who will be bucking line against B. C. Poynter.

ter, the Tiger's right tackle and biggest man, weighing 210. Coach Ralph Dow has been working hard with the boys this week and expects them to be ready and in good condition for this game. Most of the Tiger regulars who started the season will dress for the game.

Butch Cross will be on hand despite three wobbly teeth, jarred loose in the North Kansas City game.

Cecil Rice, the Hannibal coach, will arrive about 6:30 o'clock Friday evening and have his boys prepared for the battle with the Tigers. He will be playing against the "T" that Coach Dow used last year to defeat the Pirates 24-13.

The starting lineups are as follows:

Leslie Caron Has Turned From Dancing

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—No matter what you say, Leslie Caron won't dance.

It seems a crying shame, because the little French doll brightened the screen with her dancing in "An American in Paris," "Daddy Long Legs" and other musicals. Now she's back in Hollywood after a two-year absence, doing a nondancing role in "Gigi."

She's a changed girl. During her absence she acquired a new husband, British director Peter Hall, a new son and a more confident attitude toward life. She firmly predicts she will never dance again.

"Oh, if a studio came up with a really interesting story of a ballet dancer, I might do it," she said. "But I can't see that ever happening."

"Why? Because the life of a ballet dancer is dull, uninteresting, stupid and dirty. It is a terrible life, and I don't know why I did it so long. I haven't danced now for two years, and I must say I don't miss it a bit."

"Ballet dancing is not only stupid, it is against nature. Human beings were made to walk with their feet straight forward. But in ballet you are forced to make your feet go like this," she indicated the position of the feet side-by-side at right angles to their usual position.

Leslie, now 26, started dancing when she was 10. But when she left here after "Daddy Long Legs" with Fred Astaire, she was determined to leave dancing behind.

She did a straight play with director Jean Renoir in Paris, then played "Gigi" on the London stage. That's when she met her husband, who directed the show.

"I'd rather be known as an actress than a dancer," she said.

WELL!—Returning the cameraman's stare, this gerenuk displays his almost swanlike neck in a formal pose at New York's Bronx Zoo. The gerenuk, pronounced with a hard "g," as in gazelle, is expected to prove a popular attraction at the zoo not only because of its beauty, but because it has a special trick of standing on hind legs.

Third Nation Ratifies Treaties for Trade

ROME (AP)—Three of the six nations involved now have ratified the treaties to set up a West European common market and the Euratom pool for joint development of atomic energy.

The Italian Senate approved the companion pact last night, completing action by the Italian Parliament. Only the Communists voted no.

France and West Germany already have ratified the treaties. The Benelux countries—Belgium, Netherlands and Luxembourg—still must act. Sponsors hope to have the two plans in effect by Jan. 1.

The common market treaty provides for progressive elimination of customs and tariff barriers among the six nations and development of unified tariffs on imports from outside the area.

Fran Misses Her Friends, Kukla, Ollie

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Not long ago when Fran Allison went into a drug store without her puppet chums, Kukla and Ollie, a little girl exclaimed to her mother, "It's the dragon's girl friend, Mommy. But how did she get out of television?"

Well, she's not out of television. Although the team of Kukla, Fran and Ollie is not appearing together presently on the home screen, they're all working—and they miss one another.

The tall, slim Miss Allison appears in a new role next Sunday, "Pinocchio" (NBC-TV), a musical based on the well-known fairy tale about a wooden puppet who became a real boy. Mickey Rooney plays the title role and Walter Slezak has the role of Papa Geppetto, who created the puppet.

"I'm the Blue-Haired Fairy Queen," said Miss Allison. "It's I who bring Pinocchio to life after he has learned he can't be selfish if he's going to be a human."

She describes rehearsals as "loads of fun"—which is understandable when you realize that Jerry Colonna is playing the Circus Ringmaster, Stubby Kaye is the Town Crier and Martyn Green plays the Fox.

What are her hopes of reunion with Burr Tillstrom's puppets, Kukla and Ollie, who have been appearing recently on the Perry Como show?

"If I thought I wouldn't be working with Kukla and Ollie again, I'd be heart-broken."

"Kukla, Fran and Ollie" had such a large following that rumors persist of its eventual return to television. While nothing positive can be reported yet, it seems unlikely that Miss Allison will be "heart-broken."

Coty Resumes Hunt for New French Premier

PARIS (AP)—President Rene Coty today resumed his search for a new French premier after Rene Pleven abandoned his attempt to end the 10-day Cabinet crisis by forming a government.

Sources close to the President said Coty had no likely candidate in mind to head France's 24th postwar government.

The political crisis provoked by the parliamentary defeat of Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury deepened with failure of Coty's second choice to win enough support in the National Assembly.

The President's first nominee, Socialist Guy Mollet, refused even to try to form a Cabinet.

Pleven, a member of the Small Democratic and Socialist Union of Resistance, gave up last night after 36 hours. He said he quit because the Radical Socialists of Bourges-Maunoury, who is serving as caretaker premier, refused to back his program.

Pleven had demanded that all parties except the Communists and the extreme-right Poujadists join his Cabinet and unite in a one-year political truce.

Man Completes Annual Run of One Mile For Each Year of Age

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Burlington's 53-year-old running mailman, chagrined because he couldn't complete his annual mile-for-every-year birthday run recently, jogged 53.4 miles yesterday.

Satisfied, Paul (Hardrock) Simpson commented:

"I did it for my own personal satisfaction. I feel a lot better about myself now."

Simpson started the birthday run in 1946 and each year thereafter ran a distance in miles equal to his age in years.

Then, Sept. 20, 1957, rolled around and he had to postpone the jaunt because of a health condition.

Ten days ago he tried the twisting course in and around Burlington. His goal was 53.4 miles, the 4 tacked on because of the delay.

But after 38 miles and three messages from his trainer, he had to admit defeat. Yesterday he tried again—successfully.

He started at 5:30 a.m. and finished at 2:25 p.m.

Pacific Fleet Should Have Atomic Sub Soon

HONOLULU (AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of U.S. Naval Operations, says the Pacific fleet should have an atomic-powered submarine within a year. He said the sub is being commissioned tomorrow at Mare Island Shipyard, Vallejo, Calif.

Burke leaves today for Japan, Okinawa, Taiwan and Korea. The admiral said there was "a very great possibility" Russia already has nuclear powered submarines as effective as America's. He also said the Soviets have been working on an atomic powered icebreaker, the Lenin, for about three years.

Says US Must Meet Satellite Challenge Or Be at Red Mercy

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Robert L. Scott, commanding general of Luke Air Force Base, says the United States must meet the challenge of the Russian satellite or "be at the mercy of the Soviet Union."

"If necessary, let's get rid of all three branches of the military service," he told the Phoenix Executive Club last night. "Let's pull out from each of the branches enough forward-looking men to form a missile corps."

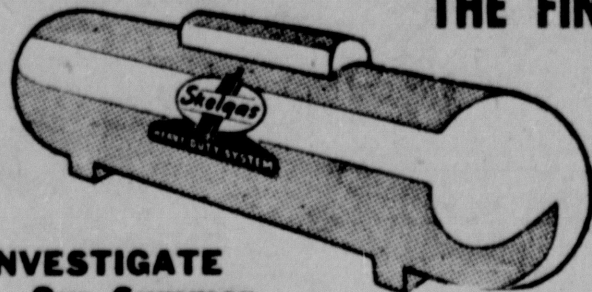

Gen. Scott is the author "God is My Co-pilot," a best seller of the World War II era. He formerly was stationed at the Pentagon. He is due to retire from the Air Force later this month.

"We're being beaten in the field of science," he declared. "Oh, by a Navy spokesman's comment America is ahead on a lot of things—Cadillacs, television, refrigerators and Revel's Love-pat. But we have failed to launch a satellite."

Gen. Scott said he is infuriated orbit."

Richest Country Is Also Land of Twilight Health

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Sidewalk scrawls of a pavement Plato:

America, the richest country on earth, is also the land of the half-well.

It has millions of people who dwell in twilight health—they aren't sick enough to go to a hospital and they aren't well enough to feel good.

They are chronically fatigued and feel sure there must be something seriously wrong with them. But in a majority of cases the only thing wrong with them is themselves, and their bad living habits which—let's face it—would kill an Airedale or break down a buffalo.

So what do they do? They take a pill...another pill...and still another pill. Pills, capsules, tablets—every year they spend out of the machines and down the gutlets of half-a-million Americans by the millions and billions. And to what effect? A remarkably small one, many honest doctors would be the first to agree.

The most persistent delusion of many otherwise sensible people is that the fountain of health lies in a well-stocked medicine cabinet.

Actually, what this country needs is an organization called "Pill-Takers Anonymous," composed of people who have broken themselves of the habit of taking pills and poisons needlessly.

The pill-taking habit, if overdone, is in its way as harmful as excessive smoking or drinking. The reason: It lulls people into a false sense of well-being, prevents them from making the changes in their living habits that alone can restore them to real health. (I am speaking, of course, not of pills prescribed for genuine organic ailments, but pills for "that tired feeling.") Recently a friend of mine who was taking 13 pills a day (thyroid pills, vitamin pills, pep pills, tranquilizer pills, and a pill to make his body shed fluids faster) became extremely nervous and decided he was "over-medicated." "I went to another doctor, a general practitioner too busy to give sympathy," he said, "and was told that all I needed was to take off some weight and live like my grandfather had—simply. "So I threw away all my pill bottles. Every one. I went on a diet, cut down on my drinking, got more sleep and started walking home from work every night. I feel better now than I have for 20 years. And because I feel better I don't worry like I used to." The average middle-aged pill-taking American who has nothing seriously wrong with him can achieve the same result the same way. Aristotle gave the key to healthful living long ago: "Moderation."

Are Your Joints sore and stiff? Maybe you have Arthritis and Rheumatism Don't Miss PETTIS COUNTY MEDICAL FORUM Tuesday 15th October 8 o'clock p.m. Little Theater Smith-Cotton High School

Pills are in too many cases merely a kind of crutch, a form of bottled psychiatry which can often hurt more than help. Here is the prescription that will put more zing into living for America's jittery pill prisoners than all the wonder drugs ever invented:

1. Quit feeling sorry for yourself. Self-pity will make even a whale sick.
2. Get an hour more sleep every night.
3. Eat only the foods you tell your kids are good for them.
4. Spend at least half an hour a day in some kind of moderate exercise—even if it consists only of patting yourself on the back.
5. Never take a pill except when you have a nosebleed. The pill won't help the nosebleed, but on the other hand do most of the pills you gulp now do any more to make you really healthier?

Moved Up the Ladder

Associated Press President Is Still Reporter at Heart

WASHINGTON (AP) — Benjamin M. McKelway, editor of the Washington Star and new president of The Associated Press, is a newspaperman with the accent on news.

McKelway moved up the ladder from copy reader and reporter, always on the news and editorial side, as distinct from the publishing end of the business. And at heart Ben McKelway still is a reporter.

In 37 years with the Star, he and the newspaper have grown pretty much into images of one another. Both the paper and the man ordinarily are rather quiet, modest, restrained, formal.

But the two have their lighter sides at times. Now and then they astonish readers and associates when both get stirred up and swing hard together on an issue.

McKelway is a working editor who drives no one on the staff harder than himself. An average

Woman Is Credited With Saving Baby By Giving First Aid

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Mary Kios, with no training in administering artificial respiration but who remembered what she had heard about it, was credited today with saving the life of a baby.

Two-month-old Robert Roth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Roth of suburban Hathaway Hills, stopped breathing yesterday while being cared for by an aunt, Mrs. Kios, herself the mother of four, put the infant on a table in her home next door.

"I put the baby on his stomach and applied my hands to his little body," Mrs. Kios said. "I kept this up for maybe 10 minutes—but it seemed like two years. I thought he was dead. Then he opened his eyes weakly and started breathing."

Mrs. Kios continued artificial respiration as the baby was taken to Christian Hospital, where doctors credited her with saving the baby's life.

of close to one editorial a day finds its way from his typewriter onto the editorial page. Yet he relishes those times, rarer in recent years, when he runs into a good news story and gets a chance to write it, in crisp, precise, powerful factual prose.

Editor McKelway was born in Fayetteville, N.C., 62 years ago. His father, the late Rev. Alexander Jeffrey McKelway, was a Presbyterian minister who edited a church publication and wrote editorials for the old Charlotte News.

McKelway enrolled in an agricultural course at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, switched to George Washington University, then yielded to the urge for journalism. The old Washington Times took him on as a cub reporter in 1916.

After a tour of army service in World War I, he did another stint with the Washington Times, moved on to the New Britain (Conn.) Herald, then came back to Washington and the Star.

That was in 1920. McKelway has been with the Star ever since, as copy reader, reporter, assistant city editor, city editor, news editor, assistant managing editor, managing editor and, since 1946, editor.

Along the way, he has found time to help in civic affairs. He is a former president of the Washington Board of Trade, for example. Within his profession, he is a former president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

He has served, too, on the national scene. His close friend Gen. George C. Marshall, when he was secretary of state, named McKelway to a three-man committee to investigate charges that subversives used the United Nations and other international organizations to gain entry to the United States. The committee found no basis for the charges.

Aside from golf—in the 90s—once or twice a week, the newspaper nowadays is largely McKelway's life.

A CAKE-EATER'S DREAM—Coffee sponge cake with mocha frosting.

Mocha Frosting Flavors Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

This frosting is the answer to a reader's request—and maybe her prayer! If you, too, have always wanted a professionally-smooth cover-up for a cake—the sort that bakeries prepare—we urge you to try this recipe.

Chocolate and coffee blend together in this frosting to spell mocha, a flavor that tastes luscious with a sponge cake that also has coffee added.

COFFEE SPONGE CAKE

Ingredients: 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder, 1 1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon instant powdered coffee, 5 eggs (separated), 1/4 cup sugar, 3/4 cup light corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, Professional Mocha Frosting.

Method: Sift together the cake flour, baking powder, cream of tartar, salt and powdered coffee three times. With rotary beater (hand or electric), beat egg whites until frothy; gradually beat in the sugar. Slowly add light corn syrup, beating as you do so; continue beating until whites stand in straight peaks that do not topple over when beater is slowly withdrawn. Without washing beater, beat egg yolks until thickened and lemon colored; beat in vanilla. Fold beaten egg yolks into beaten egg-white mixture. Gradually fold in sifted dry ingredients, sifting about 1/4 cup at a time over the surface. Pour batter into three ungreased round layer-cake pans (each 8 by 1 1/2 inches); bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 20 minutes or until cake springs back when lightly touched with finger. Invert pans on cake racks until cake is cool—about 30 minutes. Loosen sides with spatula, using straight up-and-down motion; ease cakes from pans with fingers and long spatula. Put layers together and cover whole cake with Professional Mocha Frosting.

MOCHA FROSTING

Ingredients: 6 ounces candy-making chocolate, 1/4 cup water, 4 egg yolks, 1/4 teaspoon instant powdered coffee, 3/4 cup light corn syrup, 1 cup butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon vanilla, blanched (whole or halved length-wise) toasted almonds.

Method: Melt chocolate and water in top of double boiler over hot (not boiling) water; cool thoroughly. With rotary beater (hand or electric) beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; beat in instant coffee. Boil light corn syrup until it spins a thread (to 238 degrees on candy thermometer). Beating constantly, pour hot

California Mayor Wins Unique Honor

FOUNTAIN VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — For the first time in the history of California, a community has chosen a person of Japanese ancestry to be its mayor.

The new mayor of this new community is a determined young man who is not only making racial history in California but is leading a drive to protect farmers from the mass housing engulfing valuable farm lands.

Jim Kanno, 31, and his fellow truck farmers see the shadow of the subdivider's bulldozer all around them. They know that before long it will invade Fountain Valley, a city of about 1,000 persons 30 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

Kanno's community has passed a zoning law to control use of the syrup slowly over egg yolks; beat until very thick and light colored; cool thoroughly. Cream butter and beat into cold egg yolk-corn syrup mixture. Add chocolate mixture and vanilla; beat until blended and smooth. Spread frosting on layers and outside of cake, reserving 1/4 cup for edging. (If frosting is very soft, chill reserved portion briefly until stiff enough to use as edging.) For edging, force frosting through decorating tube. Refrigerate about 1 hour before slicing, then decorate top with almonds; use a knife to make bars on frosting around sides of cake. Enough frosting for filling and covering tops and sides of three 8 or two 9-inch layers. Cake keeps well refrigerated overnight; use a dome-type cover (a large bowl is fine).

land and is taking other steps to preserve land values.

As an individual, Kanno's life has been much like that of any other young Californian of his period. He was born in nearby Santa Ana. His ancestors were farmers in the Fukushima prefecture of Japan. He attended public school in Santa Ana, Santa Ana College for two years and then the University of California at Los Angeles, where he majored in agriculture and mechanical engineering.

He came within six units of graduating. "I quit to start farming," he explained during an interview yesterday.

During World War II, Kanno and thousands of other Japanese-Americans were removed from the coast to internment camps. Kanno spent a year at Poston, Ariz. He doesn't talk much about this period.

Since 1949 he has been farming in this pleasant land near the coast, raising lettuce, bell peppers and asparagus on 115 acres.

Kanno was top man among nine candidates in the City Council election last spring. As top man, he was chosen mayor.

There are approximately 20 Japanese-American families in this area and about 25 voters of Japanese descent. Kanno received 96 votes to win.

Mrs. Sid Condict, 421 West Seventh, had as guests her brother, Dr. T. W. Carter and Mrs. Carter, Houston, Tex.; a nephew, Ross Carter, and Mrs. Carter, Edinburg, Tex., and a niece Mrs. Frances Killough, Mercedes, Tex. Sunday they made a trip to Centralia where they attended the golden wedding open house of their sister and aunt, Mrs. Omer Dickerson and Mr. Dickerson.

ICMB Race Is On

Russians May Have Beaten US In Still Another Field

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spectacular Russian achievements in outer space have left the United States with only one first to win in the field—perfection of the 5,000-mile intercontinental ballistic missile.

If Russian claims are to be believed, there is strong doubt whether even that race is still open for the winning.

Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev announced more than a month ago a Russian test of an ICBM. Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov said in Belgrade yesterday Russian forces have been equipped with first-class arms including "jet and rocket techniques in the framework of which are also intercontinental ballistic missiles."

Neither claimed that Russia actually has ICBMs ready for use, as American spokesmen have carefully noted, but Khrushchev came up with a boast Tuesday that his Russians have it all over the United States in the long-range missile field.

The talkative Communist boss said at an embassy party in Moscow that manned warplanes are no match for Russian intercontinental ballistic missiles. He went further to state that "the age of bombers is over. You might as well put bombers and fighters in the museum."

The Kremlin chief was backed up in part by the United States Navy when it made public for the first time yesterday the hitherto secret knowledge that the Soviets already have 1,500-mile ballistic weapons placed so as to threaten all major American and Allied bases in Western Europe.

The Navy revelation of the Russian missile achievement, following up Russia's launching of a satellite now orbiting the earth, may spur a long-delayed Pentagon decision over which of two candidates for an American intermediate ballistic will be chosen for development.

There is little likelihood that the furor caused by the Soviet achievements will hasten by many hours the perfection of a 5,000-mile American ballistic missile.

As of now, the only American intercontinental ballistic weapon ready for testing has flown little more than 5,000 feet—not 5,000 miles.

The prospects in the American IRBM field are much better. The Army's candidate for the job, its

Tri-Community RYO Has Annual Picnic

The Tri-Community RYO Extension Club past members and their families held their annual picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark, north of Dresden.

More than 20 years ago, a group of young people from the three communities of Dresden, Hughesville and Georgetown, saw the need for a club of this type, and along with Mrs. Montgomery, home agent at that time, organized the Tri-Community Extension Club. They met at the members homes for a while, and then Mr. and Mrs. Albert Runge sponsored the group and provided a club house for them.

These meetings kept up for several years, and the name was changed to Rural Youth Organization, many of the original members had families, and left it up to the younger ones, but would get together around once a year for an annual event. And, now, that is what they have—an annual picnic.

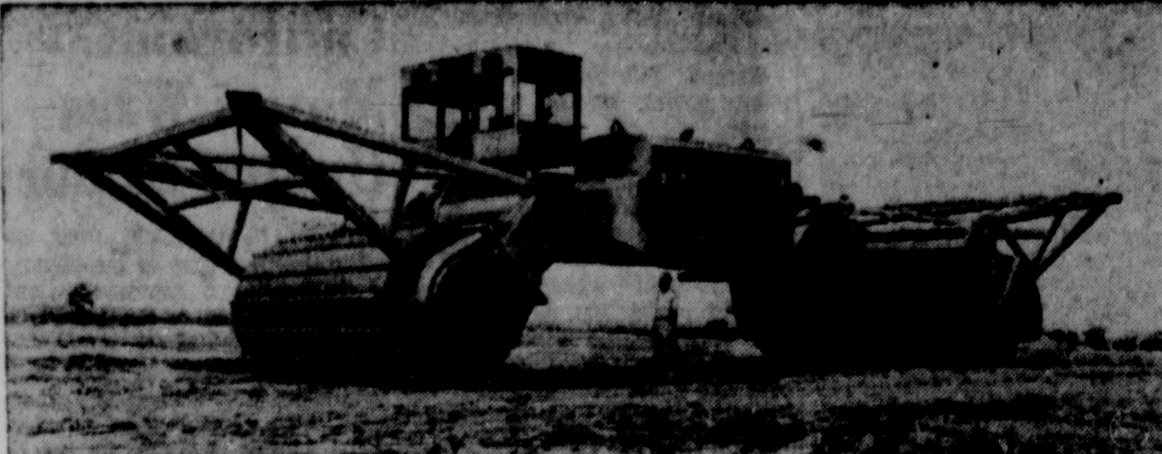

Sixty-one persons enjoyed a contributive meal at noon.

A short business meeting after the meal was presided over by Bruce Richey. The next meeting will be held in 1958, the last Saturday in September at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Runge.

MEANEST MACHINE—This huge tree-crusher can clear an acre of unproductive forest in 15 minutes. Designed and built by R. G. LeTourneau, Inc., of Longview, Tex., the brutal combination of mass and power can chew its way through a forest, ripping trees up by the roots, slapping them to the ground and finally smashing them to splinters for thorough burning. The monster is 75 feet long, 22 feet wide and 19 feet high. It weighs 150 tons. The maker believes it will be extremely useful clearing jungle in places such as Africa and South America. The machine costs almost $200,000.

Bank Acreage Repeat Soil Gains Premium

Farmers who took part in the corn, and other eligible "basic" one harvested crop to another, Soil Bank's 1957 Acreage Reserve program can earn a 10 per cent premium if they put the same land into the Acreage Reserve this year.

Carl E. Johnson, manager of the Pettis County ASC office, said that to get this extra payment on the 1958 Acreage Reserve, the farmer must put the identical land under contract that he had in last year.

The deadline date for sign-up for the 1958 wheat Acreage Reserve is October 4, he said. All farmers who have "old farm" wheat acreage allotments for 1958 and who normally grow winter wheat are eligible to sign these agreements.

Factors Indicate Shortage Of Engineers Is About Over

INDUSTRY TAKES A HAND: Aircraft engineer H. X. Brown of Temco Aircraft Corp. steps in to relieve physics teacher shortage at Cedar Hill, Tex. When they graduate, however, the students will find the boom for engineers has diminished.

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — All the signs point one way: The once-desperate shortage of engineers being graduated from college is over. But nobody on the hiring line wants to say so.

Instead, recruiting and personnel people who must satisfy their companies' needs for graduate engineers talk in terms of unfilled quotas, future expansion and too-early-to-tell.

And so the reporter on the spot is left to figure out why there is so wide a distance between what he hears and what he sees.

On the one hand, graduate engineers are starting at their highest salaries ever: an average of $450 per month.

On the other hand, the Engineers Joint Council reports, this will be the first time in 10 years that starting salaries have not gone up significantly.

On the one hand, many companies say that they did not fill their quota of placing young engineers. On the other hand, daily newspaper advertisements for engineers have fallen off significantly.

Recruiting people from companies are still planning active campaigns on school campuses this year. But many professional recruiting services have fired most of their staff because business has dwindled—in one service by as much as 72 per cent over last year.

You hear college-recruitment officers say: "For the first time in years, those kids won't be sitting on my desk, looking me in the eye and telling me what they want. We'll be interviewing them this year, not the other way around."

You hear a half-denial ("They're nice kids who are serious about their work") but not a contradiction. And a series of rapid-fire interviews with diversified industries hiring engineers reveals a change in the demand for the supply.

Union Carbide, which requires all kinds of engineers, hired about 1,300 science-trained graduates last year, but expects to hire about 1,000 this year.

"Last year was exceptional for us," a Union Carbide spokesman said. "We'll only be going back to our normal hiring this year."

Implicit in his statement: there were enough scientists to meet his demand.

And from Westinghouse: "Next year will be easier." And from other companies, agreement.

With dozens of variables at work in the job market—from federal spending to birth rate—it is impossible to foretell exactly how much easier the situation will be or how long any condition will last. Apparent, however, is picture of several factors working to prevent a dire shortage.

With some kinds of government defense spending about to bow before the economy axe, some kinds of industries will hire fewer engineers and need fewer of those who are already employed.

While the number of women joining the engineering ranks is making almost negligible headway with industry, women are filling jobs as technicians and computer opera-—jobs often held by graduate engineers.

Two surveys show that part of the demand for engineers was artificial — stock-piling by companies trying to beat the shortage and the misuse of engineers on jobs that could be handled by technicians.

As important as any factor, the burgeoning boom in college enrollments will graduate more and more engineers into the economy. Last year there were 34,000 graduate engineers. In the class of 1960 there will probably be 40,000.

New Kind of Glamor Enters Life of Miss Elsa Maxwell

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (R)—"Everybody is frightened but me," said Miss Elsa Maxwell, looking like a Roman empress as she lay, propped up by a pillow, in her bed in the Waldorf Towers.

"But nothing or nobody in this world can scare me a little bit. I've made out a will asking that my ashes be scattered over the Adriatic Sea, which I love."

"If I knew I were to die tomorrow, I'd want my epitaph to be: 'I die happy! For I was born gay, and my life has been glorious, transcendentally magical, full of glamor—and I mean real glamor.'"

But a new kind of glamor has entered the odd career of this adventurous lady, who was born in a Keokuk, Iowa, opera house during a performance of "Mignon," and grew up to throw 2,000 society parties around the world.

At 74 Elsa has become one of the big surprise hits of the winter celebrity season — among the masses, not the classes she usually hobnobs with. Her breezy wit has made her a Tuesday night star on "Tonight," the NBC TV show. Her book on how to throw a party is condensed in the current issue of McCall's. And Las Vegas has called her for a two-week engagement—"Not to perform, just to look at me."

While taking her afternoon bed rest, the volatile buddy of the Duchess of Windsor gave forth as follows:

"I'm young and fresh at 74? I roar with laughter. I think they're all mad. But people are bored with pects of engineering as a career. As one seasoned personnel director explained: "Stories in the 1930's warning young people away from engineering helped to create the shortage we've been having."

For reasons like this, employment directors are tight-mouthed about sharing their opinions and predictions with reporters.

Instead, they come up with the universal statement: "There will always be a demand for top-notch engineers."

And the universal reply by veteran business reporters: "You can say the same thing about corporation presidents."

May Bypass Priest Issue
WASHINGTON (R)—A U.S.-claimed right to keep an American priest in Moscow may be by-passed at a meeting of U.S.-Soviet cultural and technical contacts here in October.

Officials here say no decision has yet been made as to whether the United States will raise the question at the meeting. If so, Russia is not expected to permit it to go on the agenda.

The Rev. Georges Bissonnette can for all you can as long as you have the strength, endurance and imagination to do it. Also remember always to be polite to those who are less lucky in life than you are. And don't let possessions possess you. The only thing I own in this world is this ring on my finger."

The phone rang then, Miss Maxwell picked it up and said: "Hello, Gee-Gee. Yes, they are going to be married. Oh, I like him all right, but I told him, 'You're not a marrying man, and you're not a man who should marry, so—'"

It seemed a good time to leave.

"Why? Because I can say no to bores. I think to be boring is to be criminal."

"If I were cast away on a desert island, the five people I'd like most to have with me would be Arthur Rubinstein and Maria Callas (I can't live without music), Noel Coward (his conversion is divine), Jack Paar (he's so amusing), and a great scientist. Why would I want the scientist? Why, to figure out a way to get me off the damned island."

"The five people I'd hate most to be cast up on a desert island with are Elvis Presley, King Farouk, Arthur Godfrey, Liberace and Jimmy Hoffa, that Teamsters official. The first four bore me (I think Godfrey is the greatest bore that ever lived). And as for Hoffa, what good would a truck driver be on a desert island?"

"What is my philosophy? I believe the way to be happy is to give happiness. Do the best you can for all you can as long as you have the strength, endurance and imagination to do it. Also remember always to be polite to those who are less lucky in life than you are. And don't let possessions possess you. The only thing I own in this world is this ring on my finger."

Start Planning Halloween Fare Now

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Because a Halloween party for small fry needs fun food, here are two ideas to consider.

Ask youngsters to supper and use a pumpkin jack-o'-lantern to hold a bowl of nourishing hot soup. Two varieties of canned condensed soup, beef noodle and vegetable, may be heated with 1½ soup cans of water for this course to serve four; double the quantities as needed. Most children like these varieties of soup and they'll be enthralled with the pumpkin tureen. Use a favorite filling for sandwiches to accompany the soup.

Let the dessert be a do-it-yourself affair. Have store-bought doughnuts on hand along with a goodly amount of confectioners' sugar frosting and assorted Halloween candies. The trick-and-treat set will have a wonderful time frosting the doughnuts and decorating them with funny faces, using the candy for features. To make life easy for both small fry and yourself, put the frosting in small paper dessert dishes, and have wooden tongue depressors handy for spreading.

The party beverage might be cider served in paper cups decorated with a Halloween motif.

Or, if you like, serve hamburgers on toasted buns with carrot curls and milk (made orange with food coloring). For dessert, orange sherbet with chocolate-frosted cupcakes.

If the party is in the afternoon or evening, you can serve sandwiches cut into appropriate Halloween shapes with a cookie cutter. For the sandwich filling, mix cream cheese with orange food coloring. These simple sandwiches taste delicious with hot cocoa. The sweet treat might be a white cake covered with orange frosting with a Halloween cat outlined over the top with licorice jelly beans.

Zhukov Statement Leaves Doubt About Russian Missiles

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov had Yugoslavs and others wondering today whether the Soviet forces already are equipped with intercontinental ballistic missiles.

The Soviet defense minister told a luncheon in his honor yesterday that the development of Soviet science and technology "have made it possible for us to equip our armed forces with the newest first class arms . . . in the framework of which are also intercontinental ballistic missiles."

This could mean that the Red forces already have the "ultimate weapon," or just that the Russians will have it in the future. Most Western experts believe that the missile whose successful testing was reported by the Russians in August was only a pilot model and that full production of the weapon is still months or years away.

A $5 U.S. gold coin of 1882, now worth $15,000, is among the rarities in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

Wants Soviet, US to Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev wants a top-level conference between U.S. and Soviet leaders because he thinks the two countries must either fight or talk things out, the New York Times said today.

Soviet leaders were said to desire a meeting of Khrushchev or Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, with President Eisenhower.

Khrushchev indicated that the launching of the Soviet earth satellite last week may bring the two countries closer to high-level talks, reported James Reston, chief of the Washington bureau of the Times, who is visiting Moscow.

Reston interviewed Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist party chief, Monday. The interview is being released daily in three parts, the second of which appeared today.

"Everyone here," Reston wrote, "has the same answer to complaints about United States-Soviet differences in the Middle East or Germany: high-level talks by Marshal Zhukov, whose name and picture seem to be more and more prominent, or by Mr. Khrushchev."

Informed diplomats in Moscow believe that after the current U.N. Assembly session the Russians will try to set up disarmament talks involving Zhukov, Reston reported.

"Mr. Khrushchev said that the two major nations either had to fight things out or talk them out," Reston wrote. "While he said that apparently Washington did not think the time was ripe for serious new conversations on disarmament, he did indicate that the launching of the Soviet earth satellite last week might produce a new approach."

US Announcement On Missiles Not Made Public In Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—A U. S. announcement it is willing to negotiate with Russia within the United Nations on missiles and earth satellites was not made public in Moscow today.

But Western quarters predicted that when the Kremlin does decide to make it public it will do so from its "own position of strength," as one source phrased it.

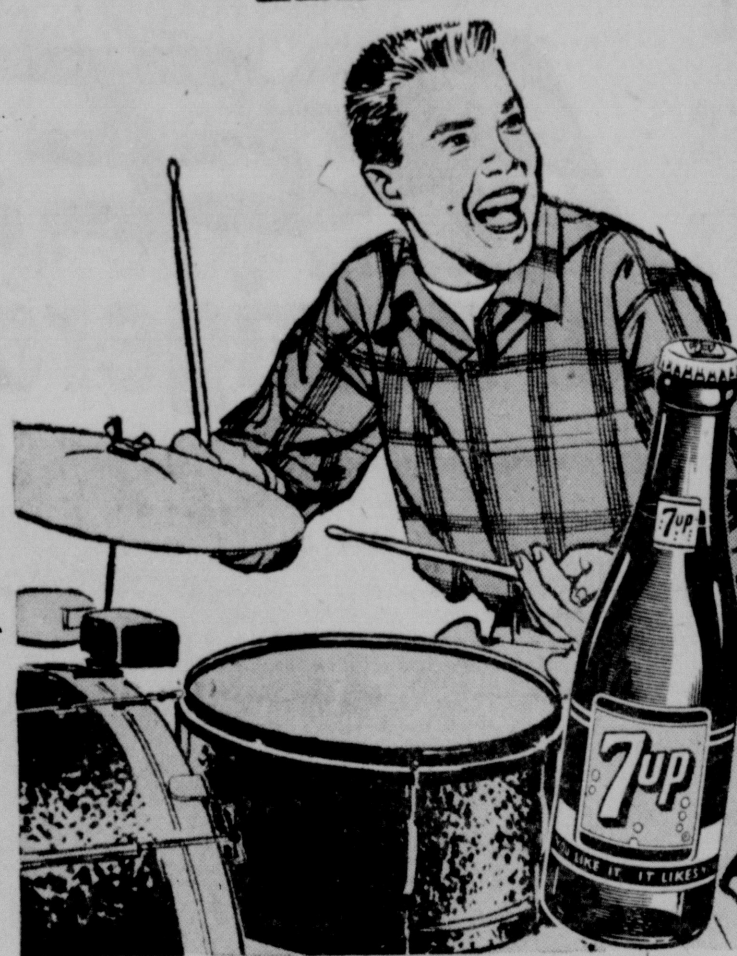

The Westerners predicted that with the announced success of an intercontinental missile and the launching of the first earth satellite the Kremlin will negotiate only on its own terms.

"The Soviet Union will be willing to negotiate," said one foreign observer, "but from the result of recent developments it looks like they will insist on dictating the terms of such negotiations."

British Radio Has An Odd Broadcast

LONDON (AP)—The British Broadcasting Corp. set out to mystify its radio audience last night with a murder play called "Death of a Leading Lady" — and succeeded beyond its fondest dreams. The play, which was recorded, came out backwards.

The program began three minutes late and listeners were thoroughly mystified to hear it start with the play's detective summing up his conclusions.

This went on for eight minutes before an announcer interrupted.

"We seem to be having a little trouble with the 'Death of a Leading Lady,'" he said. "She seems very dead at the moment."

He turned the tape player off then restarted it. This time the listeners heard suspects in the murder case being grilled, although as far as the air waves were concerned there hadn't yet been a murder. The second tape ran on for 16 minutes and then the announcer interrupted again.

"Not much point to allowing this program to go on," he said. "I'll play some music until 10 p.m."

He played a couple of bars and announced:

"That was 'It Might as Well Be Spring.' It might as well be spring. It might as well be autumn or next Thursday fortnight. We will now hear the 10 p.m. time signal."

Some time passed, but the signal failed to sound.

The disgruntled announcer apologized and expressed hope that the LIFT FOR HANDICAPPED—This unusual school bus with a built-in elevator, believed to be the first of its kind ever constructed, has been placed in service in San Lorenzo, Calif., to transport handicapped children from their homes to their own special school. At left, Tommy Stokes, who has driven handicapped children for 10 years, wheels one of his small charges onto the bus' elevator for a quick trip to the floor level. At right, the short ride into the bus brings a smile to the face of the youngster. The new bus is fitted with floor attachments where wheel chairs can be anchored.

next program would go on roughly as advertised. It did.

A BBC spokesman said "Death of a Leading Lady" was recorded on three tapes and they were played in the wrong order.

What happened to the time signal? That's still a mystery.

Pinball Rehabilitation

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A pinball machine seized in a gambling raid here has escaped the ax. Jefferson County Judge Roscoe Pile ordered the machine sent to the Colorado State Hospital at Pueblo.

The machine is now being used in the rehabilitation of mental patients.

The judge turned the machine over to the hospital on the condition that should it "ever cease to be used by said institution to the benefit of inmates" it would be returned to Jefferson county and immediately destroyed.

Ravenswood Open House Attracts 254

Two hundred fifty-four persons visited Ravenswood mansion at Bellair, on highway No. 5 Sunday afternoon, paying a fee that will go to repair of the Methodist church at Bellair.

H. C. Schlitzhauer of Boonville, brother of Mrs. Charles Leonard, mistress at Ravenswood, said the greatest number of visitors were from Columbia and next from Kansas City, although the register shows them from Maine to California.

Says Animals Will Be Sent To Outer Space

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union will send larger satellites into outer space with live animals to study the possibilities of interplanetary travel, Pravda said today.

The man-made moons now circling the globe is the first step toward "winning cosmic space," the Communist party newspaper said in a long account of its construction and launching.

Pravda confirmed that the satellite has been transmitting reports on temperatures and other outer space conditions by coded radio messages which presumably only Soviet observers can decipher.

Some Soviet scientists previously have denied that any code was being used.

Pravda gave no indication that the information from the satellite will be given other nations participating in the International Geophysical Year. The nations previously had agreed to share such data.

Neither did the account indicate when satellites carrying animals might be launched.

Soviet scientists claim to have sent live dogs on rockets to heights of 62 miles without injury.

"A satellite will be launched with animals as passengers and there will be detailed observations of their behavior and physical reactions to cosmic flight," Pravda said.

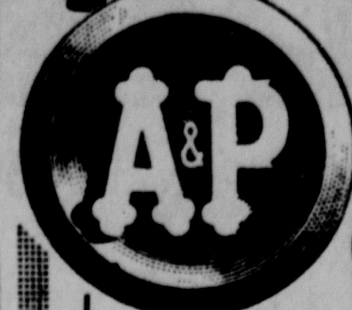

opened to the public on a similar basis each Sunday afternoon in October.

has 24% fewer fat calories than evaporated milk!

■ For lighter, smoother puddings, sauces, gravies and salad dressings, try Milnot—the modern dairy product that is 24% lower in fat calories than evaporated milk. You see, Milnot is a blend of the "lean" (non-fat) parts of milk. It has just enough delicate vegetable oils added so that it whips readily into toppings with just a fraction of the fat calories of whipped cream. Try Milnot! You'll love it!

And look how Milnot compares with these other dairy products in fat calories!

Lighter than evaporated milk, perfect for today's modern cooking
